Motorman Loses Control of Car in Verona, Pa.—Vehicle Crashes Into Garage After Jumping Track In Mad Plunge

Verona, Pa., April 8.—Two men were killed and more than a score of passengers injured, several seriously, early today when a street car in Verona became uncontrollable as it was speeding down a hill, jumped the tracks, shot through the front wall of a garage, wrecking several automobiles.

The dead:
Charles W. Bersel, 38, motorman; William Isherwood, 60.
William Blair, the conductor, with bruises about the body and James Wilson, suffering a fractured leg, are in the Columbia Hospital. Isherwood was run over by the runaway car. Bersel died at a hospital a few minutes after the accident, where he was taken unconscious.

The motorman, according to passengers, fell from his seat as he passed a switch. Before he could regain his seat the car gained momentum and Bersel was unable to get control of the car. Conductor and passengers tried to aid him.

Then the trolley came off the wire. At the bottom of the hill the car struck a curve, the front wheels left the tracks and the street car shot through the front of the garage.

The presence of mind of Conductor Blair saved the passengers serious injury. As he went to the aid of the motorman he shouted to the passengers to lie on the floor and brace themselves for the crash.

BUILDING NEW U. S. DIRIGIBLE

LT. CARL SCHMIDT, LT. COMM. S. M. KRAUS, COMM. GARLAND FULTON.

DR. HUGO ECKNER

Dr. Hugo Eckner, is the construction engineer in charge of the building of the LZ-3, which is being constructed in Friedrichshafen, Germany, for the United States Navy, which, however, is pledged not to use it in the event of war.

The dirigible will be even larger than the American-built Shenandoah and will fly to America when completed.

Lieutenant Carl Schmidt, U. S. N., is the motor expert; Lieutenant-Commander S. M. Kraus, U. S. N., is the navigation officer, and Commander Garland Fulton, is the chief of the American Naval Commission that is supervising the construction.

Chicago, April 8.—Illinois and Nebraska today were primary battlefields, with eighty delegates to the Republican national convention at stake.

National interest in both of the midwestern states which followed Michigan to the polls focused on the Republican battle, as Governor Bryan's favorite son status kept the Democratic slate clean in Nebraska and Illinois was expected to send an unopposed delegation to the New York convention.

In Nebraska, Senator Hiram Johnson's supporters predict victory as a result of the hearty reaction to the senator's two speaking tours, although sharp observers concede that the subsidizing of investigations at Washington and the Daugherty dismissal seemed to have helped President Coolidge's chances for the nineteen delegates from that state.

Johnson has made two intensive campaigns through Illinois and Harold Ickes, his Illinois manager expressed confidence that Johnson will go through with flying colors.

On the other hand, James W. Good, at the Coolidge helm, declared that Coolidge will not only carry the state as a whole, but elect nearly all the "no preference delegates of Coolidge leanings.

McAdoo leaders in Illinois were hoping for a large enough expression in his favor to influence an unopposed delegation to New York. He was unopposed.

Reaction against both major political parties because of the long drawn series of Washington investigations was expected to result in a large progressive vote in Nebraska, where a third party has nearly a complete ticket.

Springfield, Ohio, April 8.—Police Chief R. E. O'Brien, who has been under fire since the Police Department raided headquarters of the Ku Klux Klan in February 1923, was legislated out of office last night by the City Commission.

The commission adopted what it terms an "emergency ordinance," abolishing the position of Chief of Police. Under the new ordinance the City Manager becomes Director of Safety of the Police Department.

The ordinance provides for no increase in pay for the City Manager, which position now is held by Robert S. Flack, whose salary is $6,000.

In addition to the Safety Director, the ordinance provides for an inspector, five detectives, two sergeants, a secretary, and 38 patrolmen. This is an increase of 10 men.

While no comment was made, it is understood that the inspector will be in charge at headquarters and that he will operate under direction of the Safety Director.

Chief O'Brien was present at the meeting. He remained silent. His friends intimate that he will appeal to courts to test the legality of the ordinance, which is to become effective May 7.

Chief O'Brien had been a member of the Police Department for thirty-four years. He started as patrolman. He served as chief for twenty-five years.

The ordinance also served to oust Sergeant Thomas Norton automatically. Provision was made by the commission for only two sergeants, there being three now on the force.

From other sources, it was learned that an army of detectives employed by the Klan's imperial palaces have homed the southwest seeking Richards hiding place. A fortune, estimated by some as high as $250,000, has been spent on the search.

The murderers, however, have hidden him from even the Klan, it was said, fearing that the recent clashes between Klan authorities might lead to a betrayal. It was said that Captain J. K. Skipwith cycled the Morehouse Klan, blamed by state authorities for the murder, wasted his personal fortune on a similar search.

Pretoria, South Africa, April 8.—Tielman Roos, leader of the South African Nationalist party, declared today in the event of his party winning the general election in June he hopes to form a coalition government including labor.

Atlanta, Ga., April 8.—Thomas F. Richards is still alive and a captive of Ku Klux Klanism.

This is the keynote to an amazing story, which Dr. A. C. Busey, the "man of mystery" who has disappeared from the federal prison here, boasted would solve the infamous hooded mob murders of Mer Rouge, La., which shocked the nation during the winter of 22-23. In his startling tale rivaling the fancies of fiction, Busey flatly repudiated the charges of the state of Louisiana that Richards and Watt Daniel, his bosom friend, were fed into a torture machine by a black robed mob of klanmen in August 1923.

Busey admitted Daniel had been murdered but he insisted that Richards lived the scene of the crime an unharmed man, but a captive of those whose hands were red with Daniel's blood. The two bruised, mangled bodies, which authorities later found in Lake La Fourche and which were identified by dry eyed friends of Richards and Daniel,

Douglas, Ill., April 8.—Poison gas released by a secret device in the vault of the granite State bank here when six bandits blew off the outer vault door with nitroglycerine at 10:45 a. m. today routed the bandits and saved thousands of dollars of the bank's money.

HOPE THAT SHE WILL "GET" RING

FLORENCE MERRITT

Florence Merritt, who claims to be an actress, has been arrested in Boston on a charge that she sold a quantity of illegal narcotics to James Cagney.

"They're crazy," she says of the police. "The 'opium ring' is a pipe dream. I don't know anything about it." But the police hope to get her to reveal a huge opium conspiracy in Boston.

Washington, April 8.—Former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty was advised today by friends in Columbus, Ohio, that all of his personal files for twenty years back have been burglarized.

The files were removed to Daugherty's home in Columbus from his law office, when he became attorney general in 1921. The robbery is said to have occurred last Friday night, but Daugherty did not learn of it until today.

He said today that he did not know what had been taken from the files and would not be able to determine what was missing until he has made a personal investigation.

Columbus, O., April 8.—"Red" McGahan woke up in the penitentiary today. The big prison will be home for the young bank robber and general bad man from one to thirteen years.

Nearer to thirteen than one, more likely, for a recommendation that "parole be not granted" is contained in the sentence given him at Dayton, for robbing the West Carroll Bank in April 1920.

"Red," whose name when a boy was George, arrived by automobile from Dayton, at 7:30 last night, accompanied by five deputy sheriffs from Montgomery County. He greeted Warden Thomas. The warden knows him, as "Red" served eight years at the penitentiary, being released from a ten year sentence in 1915.

"I read a lot of stuff you were supposed to have said about me, Warden," Red said. "Were they true?"

"I wouldn't say anything wrong about you Red," Warden Thomas replied.

"I didn't think you would," Red said. And that's all he said.

McGahan will make one of the best of the many prisoners classed in the vernacular as "bad babies," the warden said.

"He's well disciplined," the warden explained, "and he knows he must obey orders. Red won't cause any trouble, I'm sure of that."

Red's arrival at the penitentiary was at the end of a series of legal moves to prevent just such an arrival. He will get his number today.

RIVER BREAKS INTO SCRANTON, PA., COLLIERIES

Six Thousand Men Are Thrown Out of Employment.

Scranton, Pa., April 8.—With damage estimated at more than a million dollars already done, officials of the Glen Alden Coal Company spared no effort or expense today in attempting to change the course of the Lackawanna River which late yesterday broke into the Dodge mine and flooded five other big collieries, throwing 6,000 men out of work.

Two men are missing in the mine flood, considered by mining men one of the most serious in the history of the anthracite coal region.

The missing men are Simon Jones 55, and Arthur Morgan, 50. They are believed to have been drowned and swept away by the great wall of water which surged into the mines.

Today 500 men, aided by steam shovels, automobiles, trucks and buoys continued their desperate efforts to swing the swollen Lackawanna back to its natural course.

Water is rushing into the mines through the great opening in the Dodge mine at an estimated rate of 200,000 gallons per minute and the lower veins of six big mining operations are under water.

The latest plan being entertained by officials of the Glen Alden Company is to run a freight train into the river to check the flood.

Cleveland, O., April 8.—Indictments were expected to be returned today by the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury against a number of officials and agents of justices' courts, working in Cleveland, in connection with alleged illegal activities in the enforcement of the Crabbe act and other dry laws.

Simultaneously it was learned that federal authorities were preparing to make arrests in connection with what is declared to have been a conspiracy to violate federal prohibition laws on a large scale. Apparently authentic reports stated that information had been gathered by some sixty agents working secretly for the past few weeks and that many prominent men would be involved in the conspiracy.

WEEKS REPLIES TO QUESTION ON AIRPLANE CASE

Declares Delay Caused By Desire to Prevent Loss Of Money

Washington, April 8.—Desire of officials of the Harding administration to keep the government from losing money on war time airplane contracts has been one of the chief causes of delay in the final determination of the aircraft cases, Secretary of War Weeks declared in a formal statement today.

Weeks revealed that many of the cases had been practically settled when he became secretary of war but that re-examinations and new credits were ordered in the belief that there were grounds for collecting more money for the government than was at first indicated.

Senator Ferris, Democrat, of Michigan, who was defeated by Henry Ford, said that he had anticipated Ford's victory but that he failed to understand why Ford had not withdrawn in view of his endorsement of President Coolidge.

The proposed gold bank of issue would be utilized as a clearing house for the reparations payments.

FRANCES INN SOLD;
WILL BE MADE INTO
HOTEL BY OWNER

Two real estate deals transacted late Monday afternoon involve the sale of the FRANCES INN, 122 South Detroit Street, to E. R. Hussey, London, formerly of Xenia, and the sale of the A. L. Regan home, 34 Home Avenue, to Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Savage, owners of the Frances Inn.

Transfer of the properties will take place June 3, when the new owners will move to Xenia and assume charge of the inn, and Dr. and Mrs. Savage will give up possession and move to the Regan home. The sales were transacted through the agency of T. C. Long, realtor, and the consideration was not named in either case.

Sale of the Frances Inn will mean a change of policy for the inn from a boarding and rooming house, to a hotel. It is announced by the new owner. The name of the property will be changed, a lobby will be constructed downstairs, and running water installed in each room. There are sixteen sleeping rooms and nineteen rooms altogether in the house.

The Inn was started by Mrs. O. E. Bales, West Third Street, who operated it for a number of years before its sale to Dr. T. J. Savage, seven years ago. Dr. and Mrs. Savage have since operated it, but with their removal to the Regan home at Home Avenue, will retire from that business.

Mr. Hussey is a chef, and formerly was in charge of the dining room at the Grand Hotel when it was managed by C. H. Neil. When Neil moved to London and purchased the Neil House he accompanied his former employer there and has managed the dining service of the London Hotel for the last four years. With the exception of that time he has spent practically all of his life in Xenia and is well known here. His mother, Mrs. Rachel Hussey, will return to Xenia with him to make her home.

Mr. Hussey plans to convert the inn into an up-to-date hotel, will remodel the building extensively and add extra bath rooms besides the other increased facilities. The Regan home was formerly the property of W. O. Maddux, of near Cedarville, who sold it to Mr. and Mrs. Regan when he removed to the country several years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Regan and family expect to buy a new home before they are required to move.

TWO YOUTHS ARE SENT TO COLUMBUS
AFTER ESCAPE

Two youths, who escaped from the Ohio Institution for Feeble Minded Youth at Columbus, were returned to that institution Tuesday by an officer following their arrest after a series of local petit thefts.

They were Otto Ness, aged 9 and Charles Delosier, aged 13, and were arrested at Spring Valley Monday afternoon by Lieutenant Charles Mackrodt of the Pennsylvania Railroad Police, who took them off a freight train there.

In a brief visit here Monday, the youths are alleged to have stolen a bicycle belonging to Robert Maxwell, from Central High School, East Church Street, an overcoat and pair of gloves belonging to Cecil Crawford, employee of the Ankeney and Weaver storage battery station, West Market Street and a number of articles of clothing from the home of Marion Beeson, Cincinnati Pike.

The thefts here were committed before the youths visited the Beeson home, during the absence of members of the family. They ate a pie, stole a suit of clothes, a shirt, a woman's sapphire ring, a woman's wrist watch, a peck of apples, a bed spread and blanket at the Beeson home.

Leaving the bicycle there, they ventured into a field where they changed into the stolen clothes and abandoned the bed clothing, walking on from there to Spring Valley. When arrested they were brought to the County Jail and all of the stolen property was eventually recovered and returned to the owners with the exception of the pie and apples, which had gone to stave off the pangs of hunger.

An officer of the Columbus institution came here and returned the youths to Columbus.

ALBANIANS MAKE
SYMPATHY TO U. S.

Tirana, Albania, April 8.—The bodies of George B. DeLong of New York, and Robert Lewis Coleman, of San Francisco, who were killed by Albanian brigands were brought here today by motor car.

Practically all the shops in Tirana were closed and immense crowds made a demonstration of friendly sympathy in front of the U. S. legation. The automobile bearing the bodies could hardly get through the jam.

The Albanian chamber of deputies suspended its sitting for ten minutes as a sign of mourning.

Troops are enforcing martial law in the district where the assassination took place Sunday on the mountains along the Tirana-Scutari road.

Conflicting opinions are held but police believe the brigands killed the wealthy Americans, hoping to obtain a large sum of money.

BUYS OUT INTEREST
OF HIS PARTNER
IN SHOE BUSINESS

A deal involving one of Xenia's best known business houses was consummated Tuesday morning with the purchase by Harry Schweibold, senior partner in the firm of the S. and S. Shoe Store, East Main Street, of the interest of his partner, Lester Stiles.

Mr. Stiles gave up active participation in the business six weeks ago, but the exchange of interests was not carried out until Tuesday morning. The retiring partner has been associated with his brother, Paul Stiles in the operation of the Stiles Baking Co., since leaving the shoe store and will continue that association.

The S. and S. Shoe Store was inaugurated just ten years ago, when the firm began operations in room now occupied by the Hayward Tobacco shop, East Main Street. Three years ago last October the store was moved to its present larger quarters in the room formerly occupied by the C. S. Frazer store.

The larger room admitted of an increased stock and wider range of activities and new lines were added to the business. Mr. Schweibold, who continues now as sole manager of the concern, has been in the shoe business for thirty-three years, both in the manufacturing end and as a retailer, thus bringing to the business a wide knowledge of the shoe trade, which has helped to earn for the store its considerable popularity.

The establishment will continue to be known as the S. and S. Shoe Store, no change being made in the store name, and will continue to be operated along its present policy. The store acts as local agents for the Florsheim, J. E. Tilt, Bostonian, Queen Quality and Edmund H. Smith shoes.

PUZZLING SPECULATION

The national wealth of the United States, as estimated by the Census Bureau for December 31, 1922, was something more than $320,000,000,000. This represents a gain of 72 per cent during the last ten years, and is forty-five times that of 1850. It is to be remembered, however, that the dollar of 1922 was not worth as much in purchasing power as the dollar of 1912; recognition of this fact would take an appreciable slice off the $320,000,000,000. This is only one of many difficulties encountered in such a calculation; many would question, for instance, the valuation of motor vehicles at about $4,600,000,000, just above the total of the nation's gold and silver coin and bullion stocks. Uncertain as these statistics be, however, there is food for philosophical speculation in the fact that the world as a whole goes on always increasing, never decreasing, its sum total of wealth, and in the possibility that, perhaps, there may be a limit. Then too, there is the satisfaction of comparing our national wealth with that of the next "richest" nation in the world, the British Empire; we have more than double.—Public Ledger.

THEIR CAUSE FOR COMPLAINT

In the coffers of the United States today lies two-fifths of the world's gold stock. This has been a source of worry to many financiers, especially the British, though the United States has seemed able to carry the load rather handsily. Even the Federal Reserve Board, however, has suggested, in its tenth annual report, that "it is to be expected and desired that some portion of the gold which the tides of disorganized trade have brought us in the last ten years will eventually return to the countries whence it has come." Gold, after all, is but the basis of an exchange medium, and the presence of a disproportionate amount in the United States is a symptom rather than a disease. When world commerce straightens out some of our supply will be siphoned off in the natural course of exchange. In the meantime, it is not unpleasant to feel that we have two much gold as a basis for our currency, while so many countries have two little and suffer all sorts of financial ills for lack of it.—Public Ledger.

CHINA'S NEW ADVENTURE

Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, who still manages to retain a certain amount of power in South China, has long threatened to espouse Communism as a practical doctrine. He seems to have renewed his flirtation now that Soviet Russia has renewed its drive in the Far East. The best practical argument against Communism is that it has not worked where it has been tried. The answer of the Communists is that it has been tried only in backward nations, but that it would succeed in a country highly organized industrially. China, even the progressive Canton district, is still backward, according to modern standards, and there is not the slightest reason to believe that Communism would work there. Besides Dr. Sun knows, China has tried and abandoned the Communist system at least twice during the last two or three dozen centuries—abandoned it for the very reason Russia is abandoning it. One more than suspects the honorable "President of All China" of having some sort of political axe to grind just as the Bolsheviks had in Russia.

"AS YOU LIKE IT"

Where was Eden? Local pride or archeological research assigns many sites to the theatre of man's origin and Scriptural downfall. The Chinese like to believe that our first parents inhabited their far western provinces. The Eskimo and the Abyssinians have their contradictory theories. For many a hard-pressed denizen of middle Europe Eden lies within the arable acres or even between the gold-paved streets of distant America. Those who literally follow the Bible narrative locate the garden between Tigris and the Euphrates. Dr. Albert Clay, formerly of the University of Pennsylvania, now of Yale, has come back from the region and reports that a few thousand years ago there was a sea which would have kept Adam and Eve busy building dikes. Each man may put Eden where he pleases; he is happy if he finds it in his home.

BOLL WEEVIL TEST

From South Carolina comes the story of a farmer who decided to find out just how much heat and cold a boll weevil can stand. He caught one and froze it into a cake of ice, left it there for twenty-four hours, then thawed the ice and was astonished to see the bug stretch its wings and walk away. He caught it again, put it under a pan on the stove and built up a good fire. The stove got red hot, the pan got red hot, and evidently the weevil also got red hot. At any rate when the farmer lifted the pan the weevil flew out of the window and set fire to the barn. The moral of the yarn is not quite clear, but we suspect that it has something to do with the old maxim, never depend on the weather to kill bugs.

THE WAR ON WINTER

Spring calls them to the colors, the tulips red and white, In uniforms of splendor they'll rally 'er night; Ten million dandelions are rising at her call, And soon the morning glories will scale the garden well.

The war on Tyrant Winter already has begun. Its outposts are beleaguered by the forces of the sun; And now on hill and valley the troops of spring recruit.

TO PLAY FOR RADIO

Two violin solos, played by Miss Marie Lindsey, of this city will be broadcast from the Crosley radio station at Cincinnati next Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Miss Lindsey will play "Andante, Religioso," by Thome, and "Valse Triste" by Sibelius. She will spend the week end in Cincinnati.

And everywhere around us the buds prepare to shoot. The robins hurry northward, obeying Spring's command. To spy on winter's trenches and scout the frozen land; The daffodils are waiting to storm with yellow flame And regiments of beauty the field which snowdrifts claim.

With banners proudly waving the hyacinths will come. The violets following after to bugle and to drum; And soon ten million blossoms will wake us with a shout And tell that Spring has conquered and Winter's driven out!

ON PARKING YOUR WORRIES

I read an article recently about parking your worries while you sleep. By why park them? There they will be in the morning when you awaken into a bright new day. You don't have to lock up your worries. No one is going to steal them. Everybody has their own special brand.

And if you park them, you will have them. First you will have them on your hands again.

So my advice is to end your worries with the day and take only pleasant and happy thoughts to your bed with you. Just say to your worries: "Old fellows, you have been barking at my heels all day, now off with you! I won't need you tomorrow, and when tomorrow comes you won't be able to find me—for I won't be where you will be!"

Robert Herrick once wrote one of the most beautiful stories I have ever read, called "The Master of the Inn." The story is of a man who early became disappointed and his heart filled with bitterness. But he determined to empty it and fill his heart, instead, with beauty, through service. So he established an Inn for the care of sick souls. And no one ever came but they left with the sweetness and beauty of the Master's spirit in their lives and went back to their work new men.

When we lead our worries out, we forget that other people have worries, too. And too many worries exhibited is like getting too many dogs together in one place—there is liable to be a fight!

I used to love to listen to the sermons of Dr. W. A. Quayle, later a bishop of the Methodist Church. I used to park my worries outside his church door—but when I came out, they weren't there. Someone had taken them, or else they had gotten tired waiting.

The reason was that Bishop Quayle gave you something to put in the place of the worries, that crowded them all out.

So if you try to make people happy, if you forget your own troubles, if you stand free and independent for what you feel is right, you will be cared for and know what happiness and success is right. No one will need to tell you.

Benefited by First Bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lancaster, Pa.—"After I was married I became terribly run-down and was weak and nervous. My sister-in-law told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My husband got me a bottle at once, and it did me so much good that I kept on taking it. I began to feel well and strong again and was able to do my housework up to the time my baby was born—a nice fat little girl in the best of health. I surely am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends when they have troubles like mine, and I am perfectly willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."

Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest. ## EXPECT JURY WILL GET $20,000 DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST WILBERFORCE LATE ON TUESDAY

The $20,000 damage suit of Mrs. Grace Green, colored, against Wilberforce University and the trustees of the combined Normal and Industrial Department, which is state operated, began before Judge R. L. Gowdy and a jury in Common Pleas Court Tuesday morning.

With a short list of witnesses called by both sides, indications were that the jury would get the case Tuesday afternoon. The action is a suit for damages based on alleged injuries received by the plaintiff when she fell in a man-hole on the university grounds in February, 1921.

The plaintiff declares she was one of a crowd waiting outside the school gymnasium before it was opened for a basketball game, and while the light circuit was broken so there were no lights in the gym. She alleges she fell in the opening in the dark, injuring her sides and her head and as a result is permanently blind.

Testimony introduced Tuesday morning showed that J. D. Newsome, chief engineer at the university, was called to repair the lights. The circuit is in an underground tunnel which leads under the gymnasium, the opening for which was near the building where the crowd of basketball fans was waiting for the building to be opened. Mr. Newsome opened the steel door of the tunnel and entered to repair the circuit. It was into this opening that the plaintiff alleges she fell and was injured.

A fine legal point was decided by the court sometime ago when it overruled the demurrer of the state of Ohio that it could not be a party defendant, and held that the naming of the state as a defendant was legal. Assistant Attorney General Arthur Wicks of Columbus is representing the state in the case and C. H. Kyle, of this city, is counsel for the university. C. L. Darlington, of this city, is attorney for Mrs. Green.

Witnesses summoned when the trial opened were John Clark, Oscar Robinson, J. F. Carr, T. C. Carter, Dr. J. R. Moore, J. D. Newsome, Peter Griggs, and Dr. H. R. Hawkins. The jury impaneled follows: Ada Clark, Perry Thomas, George H. Hartman, O. F. Clemmer, Fannie Custis, Bessie E. Hart, Mary Mosby, Charles M. Burr, George Ross, Zora Conklin, Amanda Bailey and Arthur Whalen.

WOULD NOMINATE MRS. HARDING FOR OHIO GOVERNORSHIP

Columbus, O., April 8.—Belief that Mrs. Warren G. Harding, widow of the late president, is "the logical person for the Republican nomination for governor of Ohio," was voiced here today by R. A. Mack, Gallipolis, former prominent official of the Anti-Saloon League, but more recently active in politics.

"Mrs. Harding would carry Ohio overwhelmingly next fall," declared Mack. "She would give the state a wonderful business administration. Such a candidate would surely unite all factions of the Republican party in this state. I feel confident that, if she would become a candidate for governor, in four years, Ohio would be back of her in the national convention of 1928."

Mack asserted that Republicans should get together immediately and see if they cannot get Mrs. Harding's consent to run.

WOMEN ESCAPE UNHURT WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO IN YELLOW SPRINGS EARLY TUESDAY

Both occupants escaped injury, when the Ford coupe driven by Mrs. Jack Young, of Housted, accompanied by Miss Grace Ashbaugh, of Byron, was struck by a Pennsylvania freight train, at the Dayton street crossing in Yellow Springs, Tuesday morning, at 8:45 o'clock.

The train struck the back of the machine, tearing off the two rear wheels.

Mrs. Young and Miss Ashbaugh were able to walk downtown following the accident. Witnesses say they attempted to "beat" the locomotive to the crossing. The train was pulling into the depot, one square from the scene of the accident, and was going at a slow rate of speed. View at the crossing is unobstructed, and no watchman is placed there.

SPRINGFIELD GOES ON DAYLIGHT TIME

Xenia will not be in line with other neighboring cities, in the adoption of daylight saving time, this summer.

The clocks of that city will go back to central time September 28. Unless modified or repealed later this system will govern the operation of the clocks every year from this time, in Springfield.

Columbus permanently adopted eastern time last week. Following the custom of the past few years, Dayton will go on fast time this spring.

SWIMMING POOL IS POPULAR PROJECT IT IS BELIEVED

Xenia will have a park with a permanent swimming pool as its main attraction this summer, if the rest of the playground program goes by the boards.

This was the opinion expressed at the meeting of the Xenia Community Recreation Association held in the commission chamber of City Hall, Monday evening. Members there pledged themselves first and finally to the support of the swimming pool. The meeting was in charge of E. H. Woodward, last year's president of the association with T. H. Zell as secretary, and there was no reorganization effected. The meeting and discussion was informal and included only the reception of suggestions and mapping out of plans for the proposed venture.

Another meeting is scheduled for April 17, when it is expected to have representatives from every lodge, club and society in the city present. Members of these organizations at Monday night's meeting, pledged to insure the selection of committees to represent their organizations at the meeting. Activities of the association will center on the swimming pool idea this year in the belief it is the most popular form of the activities taken. District playgrounds with supervised play constituted the program last year but members of the association believe another program like that would not have the popular appeal a swimming pool would have. Financial support has been frequently offered this venture exclusive of the playground plans it is said.

Although no subscriptions were solicited at the meeting Monday night, several people Tuesday morning offered financial assistance. Similar financial boon was offered by various people last year, should the association have decided to build a pool. Lack of a Y. M. C. A., or any proper swimming place has inspired the movement to establish a permanent pool here.

Locations were discussed at Monday night's meeting, without action being taken. Result of the controversy indicated that there are several good locations for a pool. Discussion of the possibility of stressing baseball as a community activity, fell on deaf ears. Baseball enthusiasts were not present at the meeting and people present said the national game is going into a slump here. Indications are there will be no representative white team in the city this year and that baseball interests is waning. If enthusiasts seek to sponsor baseball in the form of an industrial league, the association hopes to co-operate by providing a diamond for the games at the park site selected for the swimming pool. It is also hoped to be able to install tennis courts adjacent to the pool to carry out the park idea.

Letters will be mailed weekly to organizations interested to keep up their interest and urge them to appoint representatives to take part in the plan. Probably a reorganization and new election of officers will be effected at the next meeting. Since the swimming pool idea was first discussed officers of the recreation association believe that sufficient financial assistance will come with very little effort.

The new faculty member at Antioch, has studied in Munich, Rome, Athens, Paris, and other places and has traveled through Greece, Africa, Italy, France, Switzerland, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Germany. He was born in Speyer the capital of the Tollenst. Bavaria, a city of 30,000 people. Speyer is situated in the territory now occupied by France.

During the war Dr. Suss served in the army spending three years at the French front. Since the war he has been assistant professor at the University of Göttingen Hanover. This is the third largest university in Germany. Dr. Suss was in the law department teaching civil law, law of family, inheritance, labor, procedure, and bankruptcy.

President Arthur E. Morgan, of Antioch heard of Dr. Suss through Professor Miller of the General Theological Seminary, of New York, who spent last summer with Dr. Suss in Munich and Heidelberg. Harold Tiffany, of New York, a student at Antioch, was with Professor Miller in Germany.

Dr. Suss arrived in Halifax, on the Cunard steamer, "Andania" ten days ago. The only English he knows, he learned on the boat coming over and in the short time he has been in this country.

With the aid of W. M. Dawson, professor of German, at the college, Dr. Suss told of the present distress in Germany. "The need of Germany is very great," he said. "Many people are starving, and many are hungry; others are unemployed, that is a twelfth part of the total population. They live on public support and private gifts."

ANTIOCH COLLEGE

"The same habits we have blamed on Eve's eating the apple, are found in the social life of ants. The encouraging things about humans is that we don't take our parasites as a matter of course, as the ant does," said Arthur E. Morgan, president of Antioch College, in an address before student assembly Monday morning.

"We are making a fight against parasites. The size of the fight is greater than we sometimes realize, and it is a bigger job than we think," he said.

President Morgan described the advantages of travel, in his address. "By travel we see the same habits of mind and the same qualities prevail the world over; human beings are human beings wherever you find them." He illustrated his points by examples from Maurice Maeterlinck's "Social Life Among the Insects."

Adam Schantz, of Dayton, commander in chief of the Industrial Army of Antioch College, is directing the maneuvers of the organization, cleaning up the school campus for spring.

Bricks from the Horace Mann house, which was recently burned, are being broken up to form a parking space alongside the campus. The bricks will be covered with cinders.

The walk to the men's dormitory will be broadened by flagstones. Flowers will be planted around the girls' dorm.

The next division of the army will prune the trees on the campus.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the food and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous cathartics do without any of the bad after-effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

LOCAL GUARD UNIT
WILL BE MOBILIZED
DURING THE MONTH

A mobilization of Company L, 147th Infantry, National Guard, will be staged some time this month, according to announcement of Captain L. V. John.

The mobilization will be part of a state-wide program to permit army officials to learn how quickly and with what degree of efficiency the different guard units can be called into service.

Guardmen will not know when the mobilization will come and they will be required to report within twenty-four hours. The test will show whether the entire state guard can be mobilized in a few hours.

Company now has sixty men, two more than the required number, but officers are anxious to recruit the unit to the maximum strength of seventy-four. Applications will be received any time by the company from recruits from 18 to 45 years of age. A physical examination must show them to be physically fit, however.

Lieutenant J. K. Berger is recruiting officer.

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Evil Shepherd
By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Their host ushered the two men across the hall, now comparatively deserted, for every one had settled down to his or her chosen amusement—down a long passage, through a private door which he unlocked with a Yale key, and into the gymnasium. There were less than fifty spectators seated around the ring, and Francis, glancing at them hastily, fancied that he recognized nearly every one of them. There was Baker, a Judge, a couple of actors, Lord Meadowson, the most renowned of sporting peers, and a dozen who followed in his footsteps; a little man who had once been amateur champion in the bantam class, and who was now considered the finest judge of boxing in the world; a theatrical manager, the present amateur boxing champion, and a sprinkling of others. Sir Timothy and his companions took their chairs amidst a buzz of welcome. Almost immediately, the man who was in charge of the proceedings, and whose name was Harrison, rose from his place.

"Gentlemen," he said, "this is a sporting contest, but one under usual rules and usual conditions. An amateur, who tips the scales at twelve stone seven, who has never engaged in a boxing contest in his life, is matched against a young man from a different sphere of life, who intends to adopt the ring as his profession, but who has never as yet fought in public. Names, gentlemen, as you know, are seldom mentioned here. I will only say that the first in the ring is the nominee of our friend and host, Sir Timothy Brast; second comes the nominee of Lord Meadowson."

Wilmore, notwithstanding his pre-knowledge, gave a little gasp. The young man who stood now within a few yards of him, carelessly swinging his gloves in his hand, was without a doubt his missing brother. He looked well and in the pink of condition; not only well but entirely confident and at his ease. His opponent, on the other hand, a sturdier man, a few inches shorter, was nervous and awkward, though none the less determined-looking. Sir Timothy rose and whispered in Harrison's ear. The latter nodded, in a very few moments the prelim-

FARM PROGRESS
FARMERS PUT O. K.
ON STATE PROGRAM

Their names announced only upon the day of meeting, last Monday, twenty-five farm men and women, chosen by the college of agriculture as the most representative in the state, gathered in day and night sessions at the Ohio State University this week and went over with specialists of the agricultural college an outline by which it is proposed to guide Ohio's agricultural development during the next quarter-century.

First steps toward such a state program were taken early this year, when some 700 country people attended Farmers' Week at the university especially to hear presented by outstanding agriculturists the background facts of the state's farming past and present, and to advise college heads on the proper future trend.

So guided, each department head of the college of agriculture drew up in outline a list of leading problems in his field, and then suggested definite steps toward solution. These outlines the committee of twenty-five criticized, amended, and finally approved this week.

The group adjourned Tuesday night having approved in outline, it is said, most of the plans presented, and having made practical suggestions in the Nourishing, energizing food is largely the secret of a child's ruddy health. And every mother should know the elements in food which create energy and build strength. A large percentage of Dextrose is contained in delicious Karo. It is this that makes Karo such a wonderful food for growing children. Serve them all the Karo they want. Both Blue Label and Red Label Karo are equally valuable in genuine nutritive elements.
